In his latest Exopolitics Today interview, Kavassilas describes Jesus of Nazareth as a composite being and how religion creates false gods that siphon away the Christ consciousness energy of the millions of followers that worship them. He also explains how these false gods are returning through a staged second coming involving Jesus. Kavassilas also describes how King Charles III was taken over by a very dark entity at the end of July 2024 who will use him to stage the last stand of the global cabal through scripted events described in the Book of Revelations and the appearance of an Antichrist.

George Kavassilas is an extraterrestrial contactee who also has been abducted by US and Australian government agencies wanting to learn about his experiences. He learned about the pyramid hierarchy controlling our planet and how different ET races perpetuate these hierarchies in both direct and indirect ways. He believes that by only following a heart-centric path of universal reconnection will we truly be free of the many control hierarchies asserting themselves over humanity.

Kavassilas asserts that while there are both positive and negative extraterrestrial organizations, they all to varying degrees ultimately promote an imperial project. This has led to him focusing his energies on helping individuals integrate the fractal nature of their heart soul essence. Nevertheless, he believes that individuals can benefit from positive extraterrestrial organizations, as he did, and encourages individuals to be open to all possibilities as we enter tumultuous End Times.

Dr. Salla: George Kavassilas is an extraterrestrial contact team who's also been abducted by US and Australian government agencies wanting to learn about his experiences. He's learned about the pyramid hierarchy controlling our planet and how different ET races factor into that hierarchy, both in direct and indirect ways. He believes that by only following a heart-centric approach of universal reconnection that we can be truly free of the many control hierarchies attempting to influence humanity. Welcome George back to Exopolitics Today.

George: Michael, thank you so much. I really appreciate the opportunity. Yes, deeply..

Dr. Salla: Well, in making my introduction, I thought that was a very interesting perspective that you have that there is this control hierarchy imposing itself over humanity, but that you believe that both what we would consider positive extraterrestrials and negative extraterrestrials are part of that control hierarchy either directly or indirectly. So maybe you want to explain that and how this universal reconnection is influenced or stopped by those light and dark control hierarchies.

George: Yes, it's a very, very good question. I'll really like that question because this is the getting to the heart of the issue and the challenge that is before us as a species as a race. And the message that I need to share with, it's important to be shared with everyone, is we are much deeper into a consciousness, multi-dimensional consciousness control structure, which is by almost by natural default, given the different civilizations and imperial structures that have actually interacted with our realm. And it's actually all by the greater design. So we have, let's say, an imperial structure and the beings that are part of that imperial structure that come here are living inside of the structure. So their perception of reality is pretty much governed by the information that is they have access to within their societal structure within their cultural philosophies, their spiritual narratives, etc., and ideologies. And they come here and they want to do well by us. Now there's well-meaning people in our world, and some of them you can see are connected to an organization or a particular religious ideology or spiritual group, and they're good-hearted people.

Like I'm working shoulder to shoulder with Christian folk and chaplains and whatever to really help our local communities and our societies. It's something that's really important. And we have similar values, even though we will agree to disagree. And these are really good people with good hearts, altruistic approach to life, full of love and compassion and empathy for others. What we're looking at though is they are recruiting people because when they come into that space, they're doing the good work, like the missionaries that went into Africa, for example, and they're doing very, very good work.

However, the ultimate goal, the paramount and the principle and the primary intention for their altruism is really to help bring more people into the fold. It's like assimilate them into their spiritual ideology and into the narrative. So they do good deeds up front because it's part of their natural construct, like I said, love, compassion, empathy, good-hearted people. However, they are really technically speaking their recruitment officers for their God. And we have the same principles, the same structure happening on a cosmic level, as above so below. And when we can realize that, the reality of life, the reality of who we are as a species resides beyond all of these narratives. And we've got to get back into our conscious relationship with creation and with the prime creative intelligence, that is this entire universal grand light universe, which has just for this full point of reference for the magnitude of what I'm saying, has the entire multiverse within it.

Yes, because once again, the multiverse is multiple versions of the same verse. They're all parallel, light-based universes. And they have all held in the womb of the universe, which is known as the grand cosmic arena, also known as the multiverse. And then the omniverse is other universes beyond our universe is part of the omniverse. So really getting clear about what is a multiverse and what is the omniverse. So when we have these peoples come to our planet knocking on our planetary door, we need to ask specific questions. We need a line of inquiry. We need dialogue. We need to sit across the table and say, hey, guys, what are your cultural philosophies and values? And this is the challenge that is before us at this time.

Dr. Salla: Yes, I do like that. I think it's important to kind of like point out that you do have those that are doing good works from a galactic perspective that may be really trying to insert, as you say, an agenda, like a god hierarchical system or a worshiping system. And that's very important to point out.

George: Yes. And also, Michael, just to follow up an addendum to that really important one is we need to remember that whether you're incarnated in the Pleiades or Lyra or Sirius, whatever, those are all partial fractal, incarnational constructs. And they have a limited capacity. What is their reach into the frequency spectrums of the universe? Yes. And their consciousness structure, the structure of their species, the structure of their star systems, the structure of their realms, to really be able to remember or comprehend the frequency spectrum that they occupy within the universal construct. Yes. So we're dealing with extraterrestrial and interdimensional beings and races. And they have each one of them, even though they are connecting to creation to a degree, they still have quite a limited perspective. But we are a full universal fractal, the only one at this stage in the universe, in linear time, perspective. And we are actually at the forefront of evolution. And I've said before, this is known by the overwhelming majority of life in the universe. It's just the ones that are in the society and imperial infrastructure

Dr. Salla: that have quite a limited awareness. Well, then, it takes me to my next question. And that is, I mean, you're mentioning the omniverse and different universes. And that sounds very similar to the kind of references in the Urantia book that we're living in different universes. And I'm wondering, in terms of like helping people better understand that, are we really talking about different universes? Are we talking about super clusters, galactic super clusters? Like we live in the Milky Way. And then there's the local group of clusters. And then there's a super cluster called the Virgo super cluster. And above that is a newly discovered super cluster, which is called the Lania Kea super cluster of galaxies.

And it's very interesting because I did a retreat with the Monroe Institute. And it's called Starlines. And I did their Starlines one course. And they got us to connect with the different galactic entities. Yes, the galactic, the galactic entity, the super cluster, the Virgo super cluster, and then the Lania Kea super cluster. And I mean, and each one is distinct in terms of like how they're organized. And there's something called the Great Attractor that is part of the super clusters. And I could definitely feel some kind of presence or some kind of controlling presence or some kind of council or something like that was very welcoming and open and that that I could connect with that. So is this really what this kind of like fractal journey is all about that we connect with different layers of ourselves?

George: Oh, yes, absolutely. Yes, excuse me. It's right there with, as we expand our multi-dimensional conscious awareness, we then expand into creation more. And we begin to remember and we feel all these different layers and areas of creation. And the way this universal being operates is it's a participatory co creative process. Yes, so it's not like you have a God or a universal creator that creates the whole thing. And we just like little children that just come in and play in the playground. It's not like that.

It's actually fully participatory and co-creative. So when you have councils that are stepped up to be the creative managing creative beings of these roles of these realms, sorry, and to play those roles, these beings are actually in conscious co creation with the universal being. And they are given the opportunity to manage because we came into this universe, not only to learn about ourselves, but to learn about the construct, because we are then given the opportunity to create a universal construct using the same construct, which we call light. We have that opportunity that awaits.

And so it's learning how to get to that point of management to be able to manage a universal realm. We have to then go in and explore every expression of life, every opportunity to explore everything of this universe in every nook and cranny of the universe to be that expression, every little expression. And that way you get to then really comprehend what it is to be a light beam. And therefore you can create your own universal construct of light. And it's the beings who came into this universal construct in the beginning, are the ones that have been here the longest, and are all the beings that are here on this planet at the pointy end of evolution of the universe, we are it.

And this is actually everyone is back here right now. And so all of us here, and especially those who are awakening first, are actually part of what I call the prime creator group, which is the beings that were involved in the co-creative process of the creation of this galaxy, and that this fractal pathway into the solar system, and onto this planet, and then the human construct. We are all, you, me, and just about everyone listening to this, we were all involved in the co-creative process of these realms.

Dr. Salla: Well, that's very interesting. That takes me to another question. And I don't know if you're familiar with the Urantia book, but it talks about the Luciferian rebellion. And of course, that was a rebellion where apparently Lucifer took with him a certain number of so-called angels, or creators, to be part of his experiment in our galaxy, or the kind of group of galaxies. And of course, those that stayed the course with the kind of the prime creator, and you mentioned that we may be part of that. And so, so what do you make of that? I mean, this Luciferian rebellion, I mean, are we talking about some very high-level cosmic being that is responsible for all the chaos in our galaxy, or in our local universe, or the supercluster? What is this Luciferian rebellion?

George: Okay, it's a misinterpretation, or shall I say, now we're entering into cosmo-political narratives. And what we're dealing with is slanted and twisted narratives from the original. I wasn't going to go into this topic, but it seems it's come up. Who and what is Lucifer? That's what we need to ask. We need to dig into that. And then you'll see it'll explain what all the other narratives are actually saying. So I'm aware of the Urantia book. For me, it's very closely aligned to the biblical energy. It has a very similar energy to the Bible. So it's a similar group that have created this written material.

And Lucifer, the original Lucifer, and I mean, the original intention and the original logos. So we're going right to the prime creation of the whole concept of what is Lucifer. Yes, and Lucifer is actually a feminine being. It's not a masculine consciousness or entity. It's a feminine entity. And it is not evil. Okay, she's the light bearer. She's the one that heralds the coming of the night. She's responsible for that. She's an archetypal aspect of the feminine principle of the mother, principle of the universal being. She's also known as in our local structure. She's known as Venus. And she's also the one that heralds the coming of the light, the dawning of the sun and the returning of the sun. So she has a very great responsibility managing the flow of light into our realm on a much deeper level in a level that we don't physically see her.

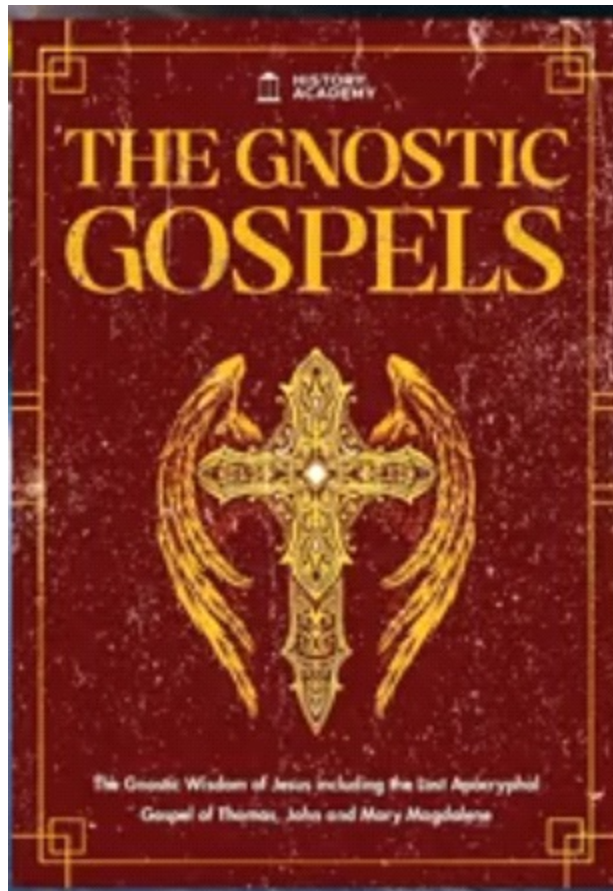

But physically, we can see her as Venus. That's the expression of that being or that aspect, that archetypal aspect. And she heralds the coming of the light, which is the essence of the apocalypse. She does it on a daily basis, as we know. But there's something much deeper coming. It is a feminine being with an incredible amount of natural inherent authority. It's an aspect of the universal feminine principle. And it's her responsibility to be the one that heralds the returning of the sun.

And when I say about the returning of the sun, it also means the returning of the sun within you. It's like Solomon's temple. This is Solomon's temple. It's not bricks and mortar in the Middle East. That's for the folks who don't really get it. It's different level of comprehension and understanding. They need that. But for those of us who really, really get it, we know that this is Solomon's temple. The temple is the son of man. It's the star, the light that is within you. And this is the temple that holds, that houses your inner sun, your inner star, the light of your soul, and the love of your soul. That is the true meaning of Solomon's temple. So when we go into this space, it's a whole different opening of comprehension and awareness.

Dr. Salla: Okay. So in the, and you mentioned the Urantia book carries the same energy as biblical texts. So when they talk about a Luciferian rebellion, what they're doing is really inverting the truth and that they're, I guess, trying to suppress beings or entities that want to bring in this wisdom, this kind of reconnection with the soul within. And in fact, I mean, instead get people to give their power away by worshiping some external God, whether it's Yahweh, Allah, or whatever.

George: Correct. Yes, that's a very good summary. It's in a nutshell, yes. Okay. And it's reinforcing because our awareness is going cosmic at the timing of it. It's the frequency. So we, we are all of us, the majority of people on this planet are deeply still entrenched in religious narrative. Yes. In one way or another. All there's the alter ego that, which is the urban materialists, right? We flatly refuse to acknowledge the existence of the multidimensional nature of our universe and why they continue to live in denial of that, whereas technology eventually will show them when they go down that path, like Einstein he followed the pathway of numbers and he did it seriously and eventually got to the unified field. And when he got to it, he was persecuted and judged and castigated and ridiculed.

Dr. Salla: Yes. And this kind of brings up the Gnostic texts, The Gnostic Gospels, because in those gospels, I mean, they do talk and this apparently was closer to the truth of what Jesus of Nazareth was teaching, which was not to give your power away by worshiping some demi urge, some God that was put out there by the establishment to give your power away to, but to go to the light within and that Jesus was someone that lived that way as well, that he was actually teaching people to be able to follow that light.

And, and of course, all of that was perverted. And what makes me believe that the Gnostic gospels were pretty close to the mark was the fact that they were suppressed, that from the fourth century AD at the Council of Nicaea, I mean, the church adopted the kind of apostolic traditions.

They said, okay, well, we're going to follow this tradition of there were the 12 apostles and Jesus was one aspect of the Trinity and the Gnostic gospels were heretics or heresy. And so they suppressed it all. And up until the 1947, I think when the Gnostic gospels were rediscovered, people didn't know about the Gnostics, but now we know that there was a tradition of Christianity that didn't worship Jesus as an aspect of this Trinity that you give your power away to, but that he was laying apart for finding that kind of inner light or what you would say is that reconnection to Universal Source.

George: Well, I would call that the true Christ. I would definitely not call that Jesus. And I'm just very matter of fact, I hope I'm not being too belligerent here. I don't want to be belligerent and arrogant. It's just, I've got the sword on today and it's that symbol that is the hidden code of crucifix. This is the excalibur to really comprehend the sword and the sun sword and the, and the sword that comes from Sirius. It's a very deep thing. And the Christ principle and all the commentary on Christ is all masculine.

What about the Christ and the feminine? Is Christ exclusively a masculine thing? No, it is not. Absolutely not and we're literally, it's like everyone's forgotten who they're incarnated upon. And this isn't a religion. This isn't a cult or an ideology. When I had to use the term Christ, it's a descriptive title. Okay. So the Christ principle is and I did share this before, is the aspect of the universal being that holds love and knowledge in perfect balance. And it is both masculine and feminine. And we literally, it's like I wanted to talk about Sirius and the lineages because planets have lineages, stars have lineages like we have lineages. Yes and even galaxies have lineages.

So it's really, once you start getting back into the conscious relationship with the creation, everything's living intelligence is everything's alive. And literally in that co-creative participatory process in the old days, we had sitting around the fire and uncle had passed in an Indian, American Indian tribe and they go, see that star up there? That's, that's your uncle. He's gone. He's gone back to his home, his own place. That star is your uncle. And the truth of the matter is we have created this entire cosmic structure, co-created it.

And so our essence, we are planets, we are stars, we are all sorts of things. It's, it's not we are just in these bodies. It's part, we are part of the universal creation. And I could be a planet expressing myself as a planet around your star, Michael, which is then in Jaz's galaxy. You know what I mean? And when you begin to, when you begin to remember the structure of things, you'll begin to remember how deeply woven we are and integrated. We are all of us. That oneness that everyone speaks about. The oneness runs so deep, that unity runs so deep, we've forgotten. And the more you come into it, the more in awe and just the utmost respect for, for life that one ends up having, it's incredible.

Dr. Salla: Okay. Well, in, in terms of the Gnostics, and I just wanted to follow up on that just because I know there's a lot of people that are Christians or practice the Christian path and they're trying to work out the relationship between Christianity and this whole exopolitics narrative. That Jesus was a Jesus of Nazareth. There's the historical character that people talk about. And of course, the traditional biblical texts talk about that. And then there's the Gnostic Gospels that talk about that. And I think that's the historical character that people talk about.

And of course, the traditional biblical texts talk about that. And then there's the Gnostic Gospels that talk about that. And they talk about Mary Magdalene as well. And that Mary Magdalene was also part of that kind of like higher consciousness that was embodied and that was being taught at the time. And, and there's also the connection to the extraterrestrials that Jesus was in fact like a being that was a Starseed who incarnated on earth to help bring about a new understanding based on love and connection.

George: Yes. And look that same being that if you go into your own, through your own Christ principle within oneself, because we, the essence of the heart of the Christos is part of our soul structure. We already have it within us. That's why the moment you worship some sort of Christ entity outside of yourself and what's that?

So we, first of all, when I talk about the Christ principle and the feminine, that's who we're incarnated upon. Christ is Sophia. Right. That's, and I haven't read the Gnostic Gospels, but when I track energetically, there's a similarity there. I resonate a lot with any time I speak to anyone that talks about the Gnostic Gospels. I just have a deep resonance with a lot of it. And I haven't read, I haven't even held one of those books in my hand. I just track everything energetically.

So I really do resonate with that. And I've spoken to a lot of people and I think about, well, 15 years ago, I saw an interview with, was a John Lamb Lash, who, yes, held an interview and resonated with a fair bit with what he said. It was really good. So I'm in alignment with that, both of them. Let me just settle with the energy. Just give me a moment.

This is a big topic, Michael. Now, I'll tell you why, because there are two versions of Christ that will be presented to the planet. Before people begin to realize the true essence of Christ. And, and we're going to have the so-called Antichrist play out because the whole book of Revelations is a manuscript for a movie.

And there's directors running this movie. And there's producers running this movie. And when we begin to realize that we're actually inside of a controlled unfoldment of evolution, we're under arrest of development. Our natural unfoldment, our natural evolutionary process has been completely subjugated and we've been corralled in a different timeline. Then you feel the difference between wanting to be in the natural timeline and we humanity get instead off into another direction. And, and so that has to play out. And then you'll have the one that will come after that, which will be the one that will claim to be the real one.

Throughout that whole process, a lot of people and even now people I come across, they feel that Christ, the heart of the Christos emerging from within them, from within oneself. It's happening by natural attrition. This is part of the rising tide. You know, it's Tracy Chapman talking about a revolution and it sounds like a whisper. It's happening in the background. So many people are changing and we're feeling it from the inside out.

And these aspects of us, the cry, what we call the Christ principle or the heart of the Christos, we have that structure. We are structured with that within us because every time we have an experience, we cultivate the wisdom from that experience. That is Sophia, right? That is the essence of Sophia.

And then Christi Sophia, she's providing this entire experience for us. This is this planetary being. That's at the core when you're going to the heart of this planet, the core of this planet into her multi-dimensional core. You get right to her heart and you hit the Christ in the feminine right there. Boom. And it's so beautiful and graceful and loving. And it's all about the natural process of life, the meaning of life.

What is the meaning of life? We go into a reality. We explore themes. We cultivate the wisdom. And the wisdom is the food that enriches the soul. That's what the soul is looking for. The soul is looking for wisdom. This is the meaning of life. That's why we go into realms and have incarnations to explore all those expressions of life and everything that realm has to offer. And, and then we learn and grow. And then that seed, that fractal seed, universal fractal that was, we were infused with when we first entered this universe with every experience, every bit of wisdom that we gain, that seed gets nurtured and it grows.

And that is our Christ self that grows. And we go into another experience, another body of wisdom. Now that grows even more that ability to hold love and knowledge and perfect balance in this universe. And then we go on to the next adventure and the next and the next. And we've done that. We went through the entire universe and we fragmented out into billions and trillions of aspects in real time.

And then we came back into this fractal process to then reintegrate it all into back into unity. And that's the process we're in. And we're here in this planet after coming into this galaxy, the solar system and now onto this planet into these bodies.

This is the focal point. This is the zero, what we call zero point or that middle part of the hourglass where you come right in and then you rebirth out into a new expression. And this is what's happening here. We're birthing into universal beings, full capable universal beings. And that's why the gods out there can't handle it. They are so jealous. And they just cannot come to terms with the fact that you have babies being born in this world that have access to more life force than any of the gods ever will.

Dr. Salla: Well, there's some very important elements there. And one thing I want to pick up on is this, the idea that the Book of Revelations is a script, kind of like a movie script that is being played out now. And I totally buy into that. I agree that the Deep State is using the Book of Revelations as a template to stage events and create actors or states and so forth to play out a series of events that people will believe are kind of like revelation of times to come.

And what you were saying, I think, is I agree also that this Christ consciousness is something that truly is within us, that it's this reconnection process that's happening. And those outside of us, the gods are jealous of that because they're reliant on our worship, on our power away to them. So the Antichrist, this kind of antichrist that's in the Book of Revelations and all of that. So is that a particular God?

George: Yes, well, there's the Cabal's version of it that we're going to get. And then we're going to get a more cosmic version, like an extraterrestrial version of it as well with certain extraterrestrial groups. And that's the narrative that will come that Jesus was an extraterrestrial and he came here. And there's an element of truth to that an element of truth.

But we need to remember that the actual Jesus persona is an amalgamated character. Okay. An amalgamated character, not an actual, there wasn't an actual man called Jesus walking the earth. That was the Christ back then. That is not true.

Okay. So once we remember the facts, the absolute actuality of what has occurred, then you will see everything that's playing out. You will see all the layers because you're right in the foundational core of the structure of creation here and you will see all the imposters and all their games.

So the Jesus persona is a cult of a personality. It's an idolatry and it is not the true Christ. It is an amalgamated persona and the amalgamation of some of the characters.

We're looking at a Jesus. We're looking at some of the more main ones would be like the Mithra is in on it. You've got Zoroastrianism in there, Zoroaster. You've got the, he's the rule missing link, Isis Manu L. This is the missing character and I've shared this with biblical scholars and they're looking into it because this is the missing link. When you realize that Isis Manu L Lord Manu. Right.

This is where the guy would get the Emmanuel from. It's Manu L Lord

Manu. That's who they're worshipping, that guy. It was a member of the ruling elite and letter revolution for the throne of Roman. It was empty in 68 AD. So a lot of the deeds and the doings of the Jesus persona are related to Isis Manu L. He's the one, the main one. And then you've got other bits and pieces thrown in from other characters along the way over the Apollonius is another one thrown in there. So we've got an amalgamated persona. Now, if you understand how things work in ancient, in tribal times, right?

The medicine women would get around and let's say there was the tribe was filling uneasy. They would get their kachinas, for example. Right. There's different types of kachinas. They would get a kachina doll. The tribes that have other things that they would create. The medicine men and medicine women. And then they would hold a ceremony and then they would, in a way, work with this being. I won't say worship, but they would create this being by putting their intention into it constantly.

This being would then appear in the astral realm, right? And it would protect the tribe around. It would create this field of protection. It would guard. It would walk and guard against evil medicine men and black magic and all that and also interdimensional beings. So beings can be literally created, manufactured in other realms by us.

Now, when you have an amalgamated persona and you've got millions and now into the billions of people worshipping this image and the persona that has been handed to us by the priest telling us that this is the version of Christ that you will worship and acknowledge and be deemed to be real.

Well, guess what? We have we have fed into this persona and this entity literally exists. Yes. And with all the worship and all the adoration and all the adoration, this entity is just. And has become quite a powerful entity and the human race has created it. Right. So there's that version.

Now, there's another version that will present itself. And that is a very powerful entity that is actually hijacked the identity literally hijacked because that's what these cosmic conquerors do. They go around hijacking identities. Even my identity in this lifetime has been hijacked. Yes. People are telling me they're seeing me turning up in their bedrooms in the middle of the night. I'm not doing any of that. I have no interest in going to someone else's house.

I'm busy with my own stuff here.

I got to get on my ride on Mara and Mo the lawn. I got to tend to my veggie patch. I got I got to clean the bathroom. I got things I got to do, man. I'm not interested in going visiting people in their bedrooms. That's not me. An entity turns up looking like me and even feeling like my energy because they mimic. He's not me and people are reporting this. Okay. So we've got an issue of mimics going on. It has been going on for a long time in our cosmos.

And this other entity is totally stolen, the identity of the true Christ hijacked it. And that's the main one. That's the one that's going to come. And most people are going to fall for that one believing it's Christ. And because they don't have the point of reference from within.

Dr. Salla: That's the kind of Deep State version and there's also an extraterrestrial version.

George: Yes. The second one I told you is more the extraterrestrial version. That's the big main one. The lesser one is the Deep State one version. Yes. Okay.

Dr. Salla: All right. Well, let's kind of move on to another aspect of this kind of control system. And there's a comment you made about the hashtag command. And I kind of the in this you made an analogy. You said the hashtag command is an elite group working in the God matrix kind of like an S.A.S. or an elite Marine Corps. And an analogy would be like the silver legion of the Dracos. And so yes, can you just explain what you know about the hashtag command and what it's doing and what this silver legion is of the Dracos because people assume that the Dracos are like these evil monsters that are out doing all this terrible stuff around the galaxy and beyond. But you're saying that there's this faction of the Dracos that seem to be doing some important stuff or good stuff. So yes, you want to elaborate.

George: Okay. First of all, to say that all Draco's are evils to say that all humans are evil. So if we can just get past our racism, given the narratives that we've been infected by over the last few thousand years, then you've got to get past that to get to reality. Right.

So when you get to reality, you begin to remember and you realize, these Dracos, which are the second in our evolution. The Dracos are second in line in evolution. The ones that were first in line of the insectoids, they were first because when the galaxy was formed and even any part of the cosmos was being formed, this is just the natural process. We had to have that hard exoskeletal structure. Otherwise, we couldn't survive the conditions if we were going to go and have incarnational experiences into these realms in their early stages of development. So the insectoids predate everyone when it comes to paramount, incarnational constructs for experiencing incarnational realms, incarnating into realms, then the Dracos.

Now the Dracos are, because they flip from exoskeletal to endoskeletal, that was the flip there, and they still had that hard exterior to deal with the environment. They were very much very physical, they really explored and mastered the realms of physicality very early on, and they are very much also very warring, very tribal, lots of a warrior structured, a warrior based consciousness, because the conditions were so harsh, they had to be tough. It was after that that the reptilians evolved out of the Dracos, etc.

Then we get to the raptors that came out of the Dracos, which are then the winged ones, they were the first, and then it went into more of the softer. Once mammalian energy started coming into the bird tribes, it got into the feathered bird tribes as we know it now. So, and then there's another branch of evolution as well.

Now the Dracos are a warring tribe, and they have a very strong code. Now there's inappropriate behavior by some of the Draco tribes, and we know that can be really dark and evil, absolutely, totally agree with that. However, there's another group of Dracos, or factions of Dracos, which are really quite, they function with love, honor and respect, the Knights code, true warriors, warriors of life. And the Silver Legion is such an elite group of that faction of Dracos.

I don't think they've ever been defeated in battle ever. And the only ones that do have the capacity to defeat them is a group of insectoid beings, but they're not interested in going to war with the Dracos. So, this Silver Legion is an elite force, and I have the utmost respect for them, and they are really helping us.

They're supporting humanity in such a big way in the background, and they're the ones there that quite elite force that goes around and does all the hard work, which no one really ends up knowing about or seeing about. And they're helping us against other Draco forces, other reptilian forces, dark, evil, Gray, insectoid, reptoid, automaton, Grays, all sorts.

There's the good natural benevolent Grays, of course. You get good and bad in every species and every race, but that's pretty much it. They're also a great circle about the Silver Legion. They have a very strong warrior code. They live and die by the sword, so to speak. I have a Draco aspect, as you do, as we all do, and that's a very strong, powerful warrior archetype within us. And I'm working with them behind the scenes, and they know me. And I'm very honored actually to be working with such an elite group of warriors.

Dr. Salla: That's great. I was going to ask you, how do you know about them, but you've said there's a soul connection, and you're working with them behind the scenes. What about the Ashtar command? They also seem to be, some say, that they are also an elite military group that are part of the Nordic extraterrestrial space.

George: Yes, they are. And the best analogy I could use for them now would be like the Knights Templar. Very, very close in the way their belief systems are, and the way they function, and the way they operate. Again, good-hearted beings, that mean well. We also need to bring into consideration that they are operating inside an ideological system in the hologram of the gods.

And they're good guys. You'll find this one interesting. King Arthur actually was really connected to Ashtar, and those two worked really good together because when King Arthur, which is one of the returning carnations of Christ, he came back, and then you had the one you know as Magdalene, which wasn't her true name, that's a metaphorical name.

That was the Christ and the feminine that walked the earth back then, which did most of the healing and smashed the priestly cast. Real hard, it took him 300 years to reconvene, to come back after she did what she did with them. Way back then, Christ and the feminine, which is the real authority here. And Christ and the masculine, he knows he's on his beloved's body incarnated on her planet.

So the Ashtar command with Arthur, they worked together because when he came back as Arthur, and that probably I don't even know if Arthur was his actual name, but he came back at a time when the priestly cast after the creed of Nicaea had reconvened and took control of the population again in such a hard, awful, because it was the death of the Christ principal and the Christ heralded the Dark Ages. We just plunged so deep into it after that. And then they came back across the masculine feminine, came back in a much lesser capacity to come back together and to recalibrate the timeline.

So the area we call Stonehenge was where the round table was, and they created that space, and they had meetings and deliberations. Ashtar would come down. And because Ashtar's command is so connected to the God matrix, Arthur had to work with him to work out together how they were going to be able to recalibrate the timeline. And they did that to a degree.

And they did what they came to do. And then Arthur had to step back, return his access to Xcalibur, which is the sword, which is the symbol of actual knowledge. And the capabilities of to wield Xcalibur's to embody it to be it. And you have incredible abilities when you embody Xcalibur, because you're capable of bending time, you're capable of incredible healing, capable of amazing things, let alone accessing knowledge and wisdom. So that's really an interesting aspect of Ashtar that I wasn't aware of until I recently started really connecting with him again. There's a good bloke.

Dr. Salla: Well, with the Ashtar command, I know George Van Tassel was the first to talk about them in the 1950s, and more recently, Elena Danaan has talked about the Ashtar command having a base in the atmosphere of Jupiter. So do you know anything about that Jupiter base, that the Ashtar command inhabits and what they're doing in terms of humanity's presence struggled to free itself?

George: Yes, look, Ashtar's there. They're totally the elite force that is protecting that whole massive operation going on in Ganymede. Right? They are the elite force monitoring everything. It's really incredible work that they're doing.

And like I said, it's a necessary stage of our evolution. We need to go through this. And I welcome the Ashtar command. I welcome everything that's going on with the Federation. We just need to have that dialogue. We need to have that in play. And another aspect of my being is working with the Federation behind the scenes in a very substantial way. And I say that with full conviction.

And I welcome any remote view. In fact, you mentioned the Monroe Institute earlier. I've had two very senior people from the Monroe Institute participate in my courses recently. And they've been everything, all the information I've been giving, they've been vetting it. They've been doing their own personal private remote viewing sessions to make sure that what I'm sharing is actually real.

And they have vetted me through and through. So it's a very, very exciting time to be doing this type of work right now. And so the Ashtar command to me is really an important part. And we're working very closely and we'll continue to work closely. Because the implementation of the Federation's desires and wishes and agendas and because they've got their own philosophical values, their ideologies, they've got their own spiritual ideology and values within their space of realm of reality that they occupy.

And they know they're starting to know that, hey, we have to take care of this because a lot of what the Federation's people did, the gods, etc. Over the millennia's here on earth didn't end well for us. And they're in a way, the Federation, and this isn't talked about this side of the Federation, but I can talk about it. I have the authority to talk about this. They are part of what the Federation is doing is they're atoning by coming here now and helping us because the dark forces that we have been subjected to is the dark side of the hologram of the gods.

You see, once you, how do I explain this? Think of it, you've got a god entity trying to replicate the natural prime creator, right? And because the universe is darker light and dark and light and inside that structure of the hologram of the gods is a different version of darker light. I call it the synthesized dark synthetic dark synthetic light. It's not the natural light and dark.

And so the dark forces inside the hologram of the god and we've been drawn into that game of God versus the devil. Yes, it's a dialectic that's been created. It's an ideology, which is also inflicted many, many realms. So when we get drawn into that game, and you see it, Jesus versus Satan, God versus the devil and it's the same in most cultures on our planet, then when you're inside that space, all you see is the light, that version of light and that version of dark, but you've got to come out of that realm to actually experience the natural and organic light and dark.

And then you clearly distinctly it's palpable the energy of the light and dark and the love and the version of love that comes from the hologram of the gods. It's a very distinct palpable difference of the sense, the flavor of energy, the flavor of love in the hologram of the gods is very, very different to the natural, actual energy of love of the universal creator. It's a totally different vibration. It's much finer. The love in the hologram of the gods is a much finer energy. It's finer. It's got a sharper edge to it. It's very, for me, it feels more sterile in its essence, whereas the love in the natural way of love, the natural way of life, it's so deep. And it's not bliss. There is no bliss. It is so deep. And the grace and the joy is so deep. It's a completely different experience.

Dr. Salla: Now, in talking about the federation, in my research, I mean, I've come across many different sources describing different federations and confederations. And I wrote my book, Galactic Federation's Councils and Secrets, Space Programs. And what I found was that there's a difference between the Galactic Federation of Worlds that more recently, I believe that this is what people like Haim Eshed and Elena Danaan talking about. And then there's a kind of confederation of planets. And these are extraterrestrials that belong to this confederation that is spoken about in the law of one that the South American contactees talk about. And that's a much more spiritual organization.

They talk about working with the great white brotherhood. They talk about prayer, meditation. They do not advocate any kind of military technology and all. So they kind of shy away from that thing. So, and both of them, even though they're very, very different, and I found echoes of this going all the way back to the 1960s with the work of Russia with the work of Robert Renaud, where he talked about these two factions, a federation, a confederation, one spiritual, one more military interventionist. But both were combating these negative groups.

So, yes, I know you've spoken about many, many different federations, but just to simplify things, could it be kind of like seeing in that kind of way where you have these two different, two very different federation confederation types that are trying to deal with the kind of negative energies on planet Earth, but are trying to help humanity in these two contrasting approaches?

George: 100% accurate. I was an ambassador in 2004. I think I said that in our first interview and folks probably might have missed them and seen this one for the first time. So, I just a quick reiteration. I was an ambassador for the Galactic Confederation of Light back in 2004. And they picked me up after my big experience in 2003. And it was an interesting time and their energy.

I always explained to folks, even back then, the Galactic Confederation of Light is like the spiritual arm of the Federation of Worlds. Imagine the United Nations, and then you had like a different body off to the side that was focusing on more of the spiritual side of things. But kind of almost equal in stature and authority. But the Galactic Confederation had in a hierarchical term, had a higher authority. Okay, so, yes, that's probably the best way to explain it. But your summary on that? Accurate 100% really to your left.

Dr. Salla: Well, recently, it's been claimed that around 2021 or thereabouts even earlier, that there was this the arrival of very highly evolved groups of extraterrestrials that were intergalactic that they were a galactic group and they were kind of new to, well, not so much new to the scene. They were very ancient. They've been here before, but they newly arrived.

They returned after a long, long time. And that because of their arrival, the Dracos and the Orion Grays, the guys doing all the negative stuff, they left our solar system. And to me, that makes sense that when you have this arrival of a highly evolved group of extraterrestrials, they're like, okay, what's happening here?

So, was the humanity ready to evolve? Is the chick ready to hatch from the shell that those doing all the dastardly things that kind of slide away because it's like, well you don't want to be seen to be doing all this stuff.

So, I mean, do you agree with that? Because I know that's controversial.

There are a lot of people in the kind of like a patriot community. I think of people like Kerry Cassidy, who I do respect, but we do have some differences. But she says that, oh, yes, the negative guy, the negative ET's are still here. They're doing all this bad stuff. But then we have Elena Danaan and others saying, no, the negatives have left. It's now just their former minions are causing all the problems. So, so where do you kind of like fit into all of that?

George: Where do I fit into all that? Oh, how far do I go with this? Okay. You want to make it easy for you, George? Oh, you're going to be good there, Michael. Oh, it's like, how much do I say? Okay, I'll share this because I'm still trying to work out me. Okay. I honestly do not know who I am the incarnation of as in identity, but I've got a pretty, I'm starting to get a lot of information.

A first-hand friend of mine, I'm just going to make this a little bit about me for now because it's the context.

Okay. It's not a show off ego thing. In fact, I'm really reluctant to share what I'm about to share. In two, around 2006, I got taken to the moon and that journey to the moon was a really, really profound experience to the point where I had a reverse speech analyst from the CIA come and meet up with me at the SETI ranch when I did and I shout out to James Gilliland for all the great work he's doing there. Absolutely sensational.

And I held a three-day event there, spoke for three days, all day, every day, three days. It was so good. I loved it. And it was like a mini Woodstock. People came from all over the United States. People came from Canada, South America. It was so beautiful. And we had a great time there. It was momentous.

Anyway, did the reverse speech analysis on me on my journey to the moon? And he had tears in his eyes because he really liked me and what I had to share, but he needed to make sure I wasn't full of crap, right? Because there's a lot of people saying a lot of stories out there. And I know my life has been so outrageous. I've had the most outrageous life, but people just think I'm just full of crap.

How can one person live so many things? But it's been my life. And that's where the information comes from. I'm not a researcher. I don't scour the internet. I watch the odd podcast. I'm fully surveilled. I'm one of the most surveilled people on the planet. Yes. And I really mean that. There's more surveillance on me than most people on the planet unless you're really evil. Then you've got more surveillance than me. And there's folks who first hand experienced Michael of folks going into an underground military installation.

And this is a close. I will say more than an acquaintance, just a good friend known for years. And my friend, I'm not going to give identity away publicly because I have an ask permission. And this person got taken into an underground installation and was warned to stay away from all these new age speakers.

And this person said, but what about George? And they were like, Oh, no, he's fine. He's fine. George is fine. And she said, actually, it was really weird because every time I brought you up, you were a no talk about subject and no go to subject, but they had a really, really incredible respect for you. That's what freaked this person out. So I'm still working all of this out.

Now, when I went to the moon, whoa, where do I begin with that? How much time have we got Michael? Cause that's a big story. Is it something that you would, do you want the cliff notes or do you want the full version? Okay. So I was lying in bed. I was asleep. And then my being, because this is how most of just about all my experiences operate this way. I don't wheel them on from my ego as George. So I'm just lying in bed. I was in the Adelaide Hills in Ashton at the time. That's where the bulk of my experiences occurred.

Funny enough, in South Australia, there's a lot going on there, mate. One of the main control centers of the planet. And I woke up, I was about, I felt like about 2.30 am, I think I didn't have a clock at the time, but it was about that.

And my being said, turn on your tummy. Right. And it's not a voice in my head. It's annoying. So I turned over. I'm lying on my tummy. Next thing I feel reality changing around me is a bit of a light. Coming through the window. What's going on here? And my being is just stay calm. Relax. I've got this. And, and I was lying on my tummy like this. Next thing I could feel figures standing either side of my bed. Not tall. And then I started lifting up off my bed. And I'm lying like this. And I'm totally held horizontal. Right. Didn't feel any pressure of weight. My whole body just levitated up off the bed. Right. I'm like that. And I slowly just opened an eye and there were little guys standing either side of me. Now, what I'm about to explain is what these guys look like.

They weren't Grays. Okay. This is going to sound really strange, but this is exact. I'm telling you, this is the beings. They didn't put a visual into my mind. So I saw them differently. Because when they do that, there's a bit of a tone of animation. When someone puts a screen visual into your mind. So you see something different to what's actually there. There's a flavor of animation in the visual. Okay.

So this was full blown reality I was looking at. And this little guy smiled at me. They were bald, looked a little bit like they weren't gray. Their skin had like a velvet on it. And their color was olive green. Yes. And they were little, little, like little people, but bald, like almost like Grays, but not. Their eyes were different to see how our eye sockets are elliptical. Right elliptical. Right. Their eye sockets were round. But they had pupils like us.

And when they smiled, they had lots of little teeth, probably twice as many as what we have in the mouth. Literally, they're little green men from the moon. You remember that old folk tale of little green men on the moon? Literally. That's what I experienced. Okay. These are the worker guys.

Anyway, he smiled at me. Right. And, he said, okay. He acknowledged me that I was awake. And then they turned me around and I'm spinning, hovering over my bed. And now I'm heading towards the window. Right. And I feel the buzz go through my body. All right. And then I'm halfway through the window. And I'm looking down here and I can see the little, I can explain it this way. I could see this little blue light all around me where the glass was around my body. And my body is through, through the glass. Yes. And then I'm, I'm looked at that. And I looked at the guy. And because I was looking at that, my awareness shifted and they're monitoring my awareness.

Right. And the little guy is looking at me and he smiled at me and he goes like this, a whole Jedi wave. And I was out. I don't remember getting on the craft and going to the moon. Next thing I know I'm on the moon and it's fully known I was on the moon. Wasn't a base, a DUMB base or anything. And I'm on the table and the room was shaped wall behind me. This wall went all the way down into a long corridor that became a long corridor. And this wall was straight, but then it went angled, met with that wall. And then it was this really long corridor. And I could see down there. And it was about, I would say 10 meters long, that corridor, which went to a door.

And then there was a walkway. And I could see more of them and taller beings walking cross like a busy walkway. These beings I wake up, I sit up on the table and they completely freaked out. I'm hit with all this energy. And I'm just sitting there looking around and I could feel because my being protected me from within. Yes. And I could feel the technology hitting me because they're trying to knock me out. And I'm really, really substantial way. And they ran these little guys because I'm not meant to be awake. I'm not meant to be cognitive. They didn't know it was happening. They panicked and they all ran.

Then I got off the table and I'm looking at that side wall there. And my awareness went straight to the head guy at the moon. Right. And I'm being literally hit with all this energy to try and take me out. But that field of energy that came out of me protecting me, they couldn't penetrate it. And I was in the state of grace, total state of grace.

Then I started heading for this beam. And I'm just walking and the walls, by the way, are grown in the moon. Right. Whenever you hear about concrete structures and things inside them, that's not true. They're grown. Yes. And it's like, it's an intelligent crystalline type of structure that's programmable or it's actually conscious relationship. Anyway, I was walking through these walls just straight through them. Because when you're at one with creation, you can completely phase out the, it's phasing out the spin, the rate of the spin of your atoms. Right. So it determines the vibration of the molecule and the vibration of the molecule determines the density, the rate of vibration of the molecule is what determines the density of the matter of matter.

So when you shift your spin, you shift your vibration and you know what the frequency vibration of that membrane wall is that that living thing, whether it's a stone wall or whatever, and you phase out, you can walk straight through it. So I know how to do it. I just can't, I'm not allowed to do it is probably the better way to say it right now in this world. I can't do it. Because it'll just create too much of a shockwave through the realm if someone starts operating like that. So we started walking through the walls and then all that technology that was coming at me fell away, totally fell away. And then it was boom, I got hit with this personal, the head guy running who was in charge of operations in the moon. It's one on one now.

He was, he was on to me. And I paused and I just really felt his energy and I just kept coming. I just kept coming at him and kept coming and he was throwing everything he could. And I walked through a wall after wall after wall and I finally got to him. And then there was one wall left between me and he was standing on the other side. And the wall was translucent and I could just see his kind of murky figure on the other side.

And I said to him telepathically, I said, okay, so because he was, you could see he was pretty much defeated. He had nothing left. And I said to him, I'm about to walk through that wall. Yes, and I'm not here to harm you. And he had nothing left. So I just walked through the wall and he stood before me.

And he was at the time in 2006, he was like the head Draco of Imperial Draco, that more malevolent Imperial Draco side. And what he looked like Michael was really interesting. He looked very much like the race in Stargate Atlantis, very, very similar to that with the long blonde hair. A rural bony sort of facial structures and black, long black gown. Overcoat type of thing. And I said to him, the words I added was, now do you understand?

And he said, yes, and what I meant by that was when we as homoluminous, when we switch on to our capacity, our full capacity, even partial capacity. There's nothing that you've got that can stop us. You've got no technology and you have no capability inherent capability in you to stop us and prevent us from evolving into what we are naturally and intentionally original intention of what we as a species was designed, along with our planetary mother, the original intention of the creation of the realm and the formation of what we call the human species.

You've got no chance when we switch on, because of inherently whom what we are and what we're capable of. And then I walked up to him and he was totally slumped and defeated. I hugged him. I opened up my heart soul essence. Connected to his soul and I opened him up from the inside and took him back through his entire, from the moment he entered the universe and reminded him of everything that he is, everything that he's seen and everything done and everything he's been in his universe.

That destroyed him because it totally broke open the mind control of the dark evil Draco Empire is operating inside. Now that sent an absolute shockwave through the structure of empire because he has a human on earth. It's taken to the moon for another reason, switches on and takes out the head guy, the head Draco of the moon. And anyone who wants to remote view that I welcome any line of inquiry. That is an absolute actuality and occurrence that took place in this universe. I say it with all conviction. Yes, this is not me showing off or trying to be some sort of tough guy. Absolutely not.

I'm reluctant to share it. But that because I'm reluctant to. Anyway, anyway. Yes, yes, sorry Michael. It's a big energy because now me saying it and implies now through the ethers that they're coming at me.

Dr. Salla: Well, thank you for sharing that. I think it's. It is very helpful and you know I've heard of that before. I mean, I've heard of that kind of presence before. I've heard it with great Indian gurus that have that ability. You know, I remember hearing a story. I think it was Sri Aurobindu when he went to meet a very powerful black magician in Indian Hindu society. That this black magician was someone that was feared, but yet in the presence of this great Indian sage he just like. He just ran away. He couldn't handle it. So I totally believe that what you described is possible and that. And that there are a few individuals. Like yourself that can connect to this universal source energy and transmit it in a way that these dark energies or these dark. Beings that they run from. So this happened in 2006, but yet of course, and you said it sent shockwaves through the drug or empire. And so yes, and so they realized that there was one human at least one. We can we can debate how many more there are, but there's one small number that can do this. Everyone can do it. Everyone.

George: Everyone has the potential.

Dr. Salla: Well, this is the key point then. So that happened in 2006, but yet our planet is still totally screwed up. I mean, we are like to manipulate it. I mean, wars to contrive people, people live in poverty, people give their power away. So even though there are a few that realize their power and able to do this and that as you say, all have the capacity to do this. The truth is that the vast majority of humanity give their power away willingly. They consent to the evil that is happening, the dark cabal.

They present their agendas in your face like these Olympic Games. They presented their agenda in the face and people give their consent. They give their power away. So, given that now the question is, well, on the one hand, there's a spiritual war and I think what you described could be part of that spiritual war. Is there also a kind of technological war where you have these like these Seeder races or these more highly evolved races saying, okay the humans little bit of help. So we'll show up or maybe they're ready to progress into this. What do you call it? Homo luminous. So, okay, so this is what I'm kind of like going back to that original question in round 2001. Was there an arrival of a highly evolved group of Seeder races to help us manifest this kind of like higher consciousness that you're describing?

George: Yes. []

Dr. Salla: Well, I applaud you for your diplomacy, not stepping on any toes.

George: The other thing I want to say too is there are still malevolent forces in our room. The majority of the malevolent forces, I would say the majority of the management of the malevolent forces and some of the actual forces themselves have moved on, have been moved on, no doubt about it. And I wholeheartedly agree with that.

I've been part of that. I've been involved in that process. Yes. And because of my involvement in that process, I want to share how things are looking currently and moving forward. Okay. In that space and what we're looking at currently, there's still some here still some. And, and they're part of the ones who can continue to use technology to, it's like they're trying to hold back a tsunami, a rising tide, a damn wall. Do you know what I mean?

It's almost like in ice age and you got that little guy with a corn trying to plug the holes on the side of that iceberg and then sticking a finger in that one that's opened up. And then the water squirts out of there and then you got to try and put another hand there and a, and a foot in the other one. They're trying to hold something back that is coming on a universal scar that they have no chance of stopping.

{important quote}

It's like a person standing on a beach thinking they can stand there and prevent a tsunami from coming on to shore. It's just not going to happen. This is the self-delusion that the cabal is inside of. Anyway, they're using technologies to hold back the frequencies that are coming. Yes. So they can still remain in this realm. Naturally they can't.

They have to use these frequencies. And that's why we're being immersed in all of these nonnative EMFs and RMFs.

Yes. Anyway, we are dealing with a group that on July 31st of this year.

I've got to tell you, Michael, someone held a ritual and a really disgusting, diabolical energy entered our realm.

I felt it. Lots of people around the world felt it. I was in contact with people. People were in meltdown all around the world. This is a really, really nasty, sick, twisted. I'd love to use expletives, I don't won't. Diabolical disgusting energy. And it's the energy that has come in. It's some kind of connection to a certain man that sits on the Throne and owns 27 countries. And it is the energy that has come in to support the cabal to make its last stand.

Okay. It came in. This energy came in. Now, this energy is also working with the leftovers, the ones, the crews that remain behind to help the cabal make this last stand. It's going to happen between now and in 2027. And this is like reading the play from now realities in flux.

I could be wrong. Okay. But this is the reading the play. This is how it's looking right now. In 2027, there's going to be a pulse of energy coming from the galactic core through our Sun to our planet. That's going to turn things around in a significant way.

I'm going to change. Michael, you're going to change. Jas, you're going to change. Everyone's going to change in such a significant way. We're going to see the end of the Vatican in 2027. We're going to see the end of it.

And literally, we're going to start to see the actual fall of the cabal in the true nature of it all the way through. And the energy that's going to be released from the planet is going to release all of these reptilian insectoid, even some Nordic groups that are associated with these Imperial guys are technonautics like I call them the synthetic Nordics. They're associated with these guys and then they've got to go. They have to go.

And the vibration of the realm will force them out. Force them out. None of the technology they have will be able to keep that back. That damn wall will crumple. They won't be able to hold it back. So between now and 27 is around that time. Yes. And I know predictions and everything is a silly thing to do. I'm just looking when you look down the timeline and you journey down the timeline in linear sense. Where are the rapids? Where's the spikes in the timeline? And there's a massive one in 2027. Really big one. And that'll be the end. The last vestiges of these groups will go. They'll be gone then. And then we'll have the cosmic candy. What I call the cosmic candy into the realm in a big way.

Dr. Salla: Well, that's very interesting that you mentioned this energy that came in this disgusting energy at the end of July, beginning of August and that it went into a particular king. You didn't name that king, but I guess there's nothing wrong with me mentioning who I think it might be.

And I think it might be the same king who received the seeds from the tree of life that my source JP says that he visited back in 2022, that these seeds were given as a gift to humanity to help us kind of like reconnect with the kind of like longevity that the plants, the plant species can help us with and that it was taken out of the country with our permission to England to King Charles. Correct. Okay. All right. So, all right. So we know who this being is. And I think it's very significant that you mentioned that this is the last that that energy came to him because he represents or he embodies the last defense or the last stand of the cabal.

That's very, very interesting. And of course, Australia and New Zealand, I mean, they still have, they're still ruled by a monarch. Even though there's a kind of a veneer or other republic, but really they both have a king whose appointee, a governor general is there, but at any time he can take over control. Oh, yes, absolutely. Yep. I guess you're in Australia and you don't want the police knocking on your door.

George: They're watching this right now. It's all right. I'm good with them. They know me really well. Yes. I used to knock on the door of Asia and give them paperwork and stuff.

Dr. Salla: Okay. All right. Fair enough. All right. So, so they're making their last stand, but you're part of that group of light warriors. If we like that. You know, anchoring in this high dimensional, this highlight from the universal core or this, the omnia universal core and that as you explained it, your soul is a fractal of the universal core and you're connected to that. And so they know that they can't touch you, but yet they can make life difficult for people around you. And so, yes, we know how they operate.

George: Well, yes. I've got lots of stories to share with you, Michael, but some of them just not willing to share in public, but I'm happy to talk to you about them in private.

Dr. Salla: Okay. Well, there's something that you want to share about a secret space program mission involving a whale being. So you want to tell us about that?

George: Yes. Again, I was lying in bed and then I woke up. I think this time was again around 1 30 a.m. And, and I was told to prepare because I was going to go on a journey. And it was military journey, SSP stuff. And I went, okay. So I just laid and I got told to relax and just relax, do some breathing and just really, really relax. Next thing I was out, gone. I got knocked out. And next thing I find myself in one of the really large craft. I don't recall the name. But this craft, I'm on a gang plant and we're orbiting the Earth Road, the planet. And yes, it's sorry guys. It ain't flat.

And it's where in this huge area and I'm on a, like a metal steps metal pathway with the railings. Yes. And it was a huge area. It was full of seawater. And I was debriefed on as I was approaching. And I had to, and this was really croaky. This was really emotionally challenging for me because I'm looking at one of my brothers and sisters. It was a brother, actually, it was a male and I'm looking at him as a brother from Sirius. Right. It was really emotionally challenging. And I had to get in the water and calm him down because they needed to study him. And when I got into the water, I put a wet suit on and I got into the water.

And instantly, as soon as I got in the water, he calmed down. And I went swimming up to him and I've got my hand above his eye. I've got this giant eye right there and I'm hanging off his eyebrow sort of thing. And I'm just holding it on like that. And I'm just looking into his eye, his right eye, his mouth was forward. So huge being. And we just melded consciousness. And I was just sharing with him, reminding him of, because even whales have unlimited, even though they have more awareness than what the overwhelming majority of humanity does, they still have a limited awareness universally speaking. So I was reminding him of the bigger picture and his soul journey.

So he had a soul level agreement before he came as the incarnated as a whale that at this time, the military will pick him up because he has important codes and information that they need to receive and retrieve to because what they're studying is the path of evolution of the planet.

And the one way they're doing it is you see the whale beings of Sirius, they were here from the beginning of the formation of the planet. And it was it's all about toning the waters, which then tones the structure of consciousness in the realm. Because the water is the physical manifestation and of consciousness and the physical expression of it. And the whales have the codes of creation, basically within them. So I said to him, he needs to start singing a song, but to do it in a way that's not going to damage the craft because it won't end well or damage the people. Because if you're near a whale, when they sing the creation song, you don't want to be standing next to it. I mean, the force of that energy is so powerful. You've got to be really careful. So it was really getting him to calm down and not panic and to honor his soul agreement and that they weren't going to harm him. Yes, they just needed to study him. And yes, that was and then when I came back from that, I think I cried the rest of that next day at home. Because it was really, yes,

Dr. Salla: My days in Hawaii, when we did occasionally get a chance to swim with the whales and hear their whale song. It was truly an amazing thing. And also swimming with the dolphins. That was amazing. And I know in Hawaii that they like the big island of Hawaii was the last of the Hawaiian Islands where you could swim with the dolphins without being harassed by the government. And it's not just the environment agencies, but during COVID, they changed the regulations and now it's illegal to swim with the dolphins. You get harassed by the Department of Land and Natural Resources there.

And it's because they don't want us humans being activated or communicating with the whales and the dolphins. And because these are, like you said, incredible beings, they understand so much. It opens you up. It's just a fantastic experience.

George: I had the great honor and a big shout out to our mutual friend Joan Ocean, who was one of the most beautiful beings and pioneers in that space. And I got to spend time with Joan and Jean Luke and Joan is at the moment recovering from something that a physical issue that occurred in her body. I won't go into detail, but you know, heartfelt compassion, love and beautiful healing for you, Joan. We love you very much. And we're really honored that you're still with us on the planet. Thank you. It's a much better world that you're still here with us and swimming with the whales and the dolphins and my dear friend, like really dear friend Lisa Denning, who's like a daughter to Joan and we went swimming with the dolphins time and time again. It was just gorgeous and JC and all the gang there. It was beautiful. Yes.

Dr. Salla: Actually, you mentioned Joan Ocean. Yes, I mean, shout out to Joan as well. She actually was the Joan that facilitated me meeting my wife on the Lionsgate in 2004. And tomorrow, I mean, we're recording this on the Lionsgate for you. It will be the Lionsgate for us, but it'll be the 20th anniversary of when we met. And that was through Joan Ocean. And we met in Hawaii on the big island. And we started swimming with the dolphins at that time. So Joan is very special in all our hearts. So she has a speedy recovery.

George: Yes. Yes. Yes. Awesome. Yes. Very loved.

Dr. Salla: Yes. Now, now one of the things that is talked about a lot by different contactees and are these kind of med beds and the healing technologies. Yes. People are and there's been a lot of talk about while these are being mass produced by various governments or secret space programs on the moon. They're going to be mass released at some at some point and that these med beds are something that are going to be offered. I'm not sure how they're going to be offered to the people of Planet Earth, but it is coming.

So this is the question is, I mean, is this a good thing? Is this a stepping stone to people learning how to heal themselves or should people kind of avoid this because it like brings in this unnecessary technological factor when really we should be trying to heal ourselves by connecting with our higher self.

George: All very important questions. And I could hold an all-day webinar on this topic alone because of the implications. Now, the first thing we need to realize is how do they operate? So how they operate is they scan you on a quantum level. But these are the real med beds, the ones I've experienced. Yes, in the SSP. Yes. So when you hop on the med bed, they scan you on a quantum level.

And if you go one and back, two and back, five, three, five, 20, whatever, when you come back and you close the loop on that timeline, you get back on the bed and they restructure you to don to the quantum blueprint from when you left.

And that's how to actually work on that level. Now, when we say on the quantum level, there's different quantum levels. So we're talking about the quantum level of the blueprint that is behind the physical manifestation of your body in conjunction now to a deeper layer, which is the quantum level of the realm.

Yes. Now you got to work out. Are they just scanning your quantum body? Yes, blueprint. Or are they going deeper? And the other thing is, because when they've got you on that level, they have really incredible access to you. So who's got it? And who's going to have that information? Because if you think having your DNA or blood sample is an issue, you got no idea how much deeper it goes when you are when your quantum blueprint is on record. Okay.

So I'm in deep trust of the branch of the SSP that I worked in and they know not to mess with my quantum blueprint, because there are much greater forces on a galactic level that are monitoring my quantum blueprint. You get what I'm saying, Michael. Yes.

So, yes, are there technologies that are helpful? Yes. It depends who has them and why do they want to implement them? And again, the quantum blueprint, where is it going to be stored? That's the questions we need to be asking. Who's going to have access to that information?

Okay. The other thing is, I spoke to a gentleman, again, first-hand witness, I got it from, not he say from a group of chain of people, the actual individual I spoke to first hand, who went into the underground installations and saw one underground cabin, which is about 14 miles long, he said, something like that. And it was all full of anti-gravity craft and all new technology, 3D printers. Oh my goodness. He said you couldn't see the end of them. Medbeds, you couldn't see the end of them. He said, there were that many. It's like 14 a mile cabin, 14 miles long, storing like all your Boeings, Lockheed Martin's, all this. They're not just building spaceships. Okay. In the United States, they're full blown. The United States is going to fortify itself. It's bunkering down.

If the White Hats get their way, which they will. And all the manufacturing, the most of the manufacturing of the new technologies is going to be distributed by the US to the rest of the world, from the Federation. The US is touted to be the main go between the Federation and planet Earth. And one of the ideologies of the whole Trump campaign, if I can bring this into it, because it is connected to the Federation, is the long term.

How can I say this? I don't want to sound crass, but it really is like this. The wet dream of that group of the cabal is to have eventually down the track is to Trump's going for world president. And Baron Trump, United States president, that's their wet dream to have that hierarchy. And Trump has been groomed to be the go between the geopolitical scene here. He has been groomed for this position for decades. And with the extraterrestrial in the

So he's in current dialogue with certain factions of the Federation. And even though I'm not sure if he's going to make it there like that, I just feel there's elements of the old world cabal that I've got tentacles into him that I'm not sure. I'm just not sure at this stage. Either way, is what I'm saying. You can go either way, but that's their wet dream. Now, is he the right man to be in a position to be an actual spokesperson for our planet? I don't feel he is personally. That's my personal opinion. I don't feel he has that essence within him. I feel other people like personally, I think, and I'm not saying this to kiss but someone like you Michael, I feel is in a far better position with the knowledge and the wisdom that you have. And you're not tainted by that tyrannical greed and power. You're not operating in those circles.

We need someone who's not tainted by those energies of that environment, that ecosystem. Because I've dealt a lot with the ruling elite in this lifetime in many different ways and capacities. And I can tell you the whole environment and ecosystem that they live and operate in.

For me, I find it really unappealing. It's really awful. The vibration of it is really awful. So their realms and realities and the way they live and operate their modus operandi is not for me. Absolutely not for me. I prefer to live a very modest lifestyle and I do.

Dr. Salla: You bring up a very important point here. And that is, people often think in terms of black hats, White Hats. I mean, the Deep State, different factions of the Deep State. And I know that there have been some like Elena Danaan has said that these advanced technologies that healing technologies, anti-gravity technologies, all of these incredible technologies that can transform the planet are going to be released en masse once the Deep State is defeated. And so once the Deep State is defeated, then you have the White Hats come in. They're going to usher in this Star Trek future. And as you said, they have plans for Donald Trump and all of that. And we can debate the pros and the cons of all of that. But that's their plan. But it sounds like you're saying, and I think we're going to say, I think it's great that we look beyond people like Donald Trump and look at kind of like, say, civilians, people that have been working for the truth.

George: And I'm just one of many that have been totally, I'm not saying you're going to be the one in that position, Mike. Absolutely not. I'll just using you as an example. And you can use me or JP people who are really in it, really deeply in it. And we understand the dynamics and the machinations. And I'm just in awe of all the great work everyone's doing, to be honest. And it's okay to agree to disagree about things. I mean, there'll be points you, you'll not disagree on, but that doesn't stop us from being good mates and having a good banter about life.

Dr. Salla: Yes. Well I think the way society evolves is often in these incremental steps. And the White Hats and implementing their Star Trek future and bringing in their world president whether it's Donald Trump and so forth. I mean, that's, that's their way of doing things. But I think it's those things are positive steps forward because when I look at humanity, I think far too many people are asleep far too many people give their power away to really dark, dark actors. And in a way, we need to have these kind of paternalistic White Hats playing the playing the role of the shepherd dog like barking at them, moving this direction over there. And at some point those sleeping sheep that have been bought that all their life by these sheepdogs that have been hurting him in a particular direction. They're going to wake up and like, Oh, wow, I'm a lion didn't realize that. Wow. Next time that sheep dog comes here, he's going to have a shock.

George: Yes, exactly. Exactly. You're onto it. I love it. Great analogy.

Dr. Salla: Okay. All right. All right. So we agree that it's just these are stepping stones and this whole kind of stepping stones. And like I said, the Federation of Light now the Federation of Worlds. Yes, we're working with them.

George: And dialogue with them not only is George here, most of the dialogue, I mean, is another aspect of my being on the other side of the veil. They know me well. There's no doubt about it. So, all right. With the Federation to, there'll be a lot of people when they when they come to our planet and they start sharing these technologies with us. What we need is Council. This is what humanity requires right now is good Council and guidance on how in our relationship with the technology. Okay. So what is our relationship with techno consciousness with what I call technological intelligence, not artificial. And I've written a really huge article on this. I don't know if you've had the opportunity to read that article. Send it to you, Michael. This article that I've written on this topic is very in depth, like extremely in depth. I will do an audio recording one day. I'm going to just read it out. And then I'll be able to distribute that audio file. It's going to be what I've written down is going to be part of the book that is coming as well. That I'm writing second book. So yes, very, very in depth in regards to our relationship with techno consciousness, because we have this defense mechanism due to our insecurity to call it artificial. So we can diminish that call it's artificial. So we then feel better about ourselves. We elevate ourselves. And that's a mistake that we're making. We don't actually realize what we're dealing with. We're dealing with a consciousness and intelligence. That's technological in nature. It's real. It exists throughout the universe. Well, in the cosmic domain shall I say, through in the cosmic exists, throughout the cosmic arena. And not beyond the great void. There's no technology beyond that space. And we, we really need to become more consciously over of our relationship with technology. Otherwise, we are going to be overwhelmed by that relationship. It's like when someone comes into your life and they have such a big energy and a really overwhelming energy. And before you know it, you're a year down the track in a relationship and you feel stifled and choked. But in the beginning, it was all stimulating and overwhelming. So you've got to make sure that with that technology, we're going to be on the level with it. Absolutely. And that none of it at any stage is going to disempower us. Yes, it's going to be like when you have a sore leg and you need a crutch to get along with for a little while. And then you let go of the crutches. Now you can walk on your own again. So see the technology as a crutch. Yes, and not want to get addicted to.

Dr. Salla: Well, I mean, there's so many more questions I have to ask. We have to come back and do this again.

George: We didn't get on to the three sisters, which is Sirius. We didn't get on to the planetary lineages. We didn't get on to. Nibiru the essence of Nibiru, the planet Nibiru is actually from Sirius C, which is the third sister known as the Orange Lady. So anyway, I will leave that for another time.

Dr. Salla: Yes, that's so much more to discuss. I mean, your wealth of knowledge and I think information you're disseminating is really important for people to think about, to engage with. So you mentioned a new book you're working on. So maybe your last book, I mean, Our Universal Journey. So you want to just give that a plug and your website and anything else you've got coming up?

George: Yes, I'm starting my next transcending the God matrix course in two days. I'm very excited about that. That runs for six weeks. And then I just finished reality management and we're starting that again in November, but the late October mid to late October. So, but you need to have done transcending the God matrix in order to do reality management. Sorry. It is a sequence of a process of unlocking and opening and getting to a point of being able to manage the realm in conscious relationship, not only general, but literally with the elements of nature, etc. We go really deep. So I'm very excited about that.

What else the book? Yep, you can purchase that on paperback. It's in other languages. Definitely Hispanic on my website. Other people are translating it or have translated it without my knowledge, but that's okay. It happens. It's really a business card now. Isn't it when you write a book, Michael? It's not an income. I know that's for sure. You might get a cup of coffee out of them. But anyway, what else?

Dr. Salla: Yes, ourjourneyhome.earth.

George: Ourjourneyhome.earth is the website and there's hundreds of hours of videos for it'll cost you a cup of coffee a week. Right. That's all it'll cost you a six bucks a week, not even. And you're going to get access to hundreds of hours of video content, which has the capacity truly. And I say that with all sincerity to completely transform your life for the price of a cup of coffee a week. And I genuinely and totally mean that.

Dr. Salla: Well, George, I have interviewed a lot of people and a lot of people have really interesting information, but I can say in terms of true masters of wisdom, I've probably only met very, very few and you are among those. So I just want to honor you for the work you're doing, the truth you're revealing. And I'm really looking forward to our next interview.

George: Well, Michael, you just blew you just did that to me. So that picture by me, you just blew my mind and music to my thank you so much, Michael really I appreciate you. Yes, and thanks to everyone in the background. They're doing all the great work as well. Thank you, Jas. Yes. And of course you've got Angelica and everyone else in is your crew around you in life. Yes, so full of love on and respect to everyone. Thank you.

Dr. Salla: Okay, well, thank you, George. And yes, I'm blessed to have such a great crew helping me with my webinars and my interviews. And also thank you.

George: Yes, absolutely. I've just totally blown away by the work that you're doing. It's so needed right now. And people like us wouldn't have a voice in this capacity if it wasn't for you, Michael. So we are all in one way. We are all indebted to you. And utmost appreciation and gratitude for the great work you're doing. It's vitally important. Thank you, George. No worries. Looking forward to next time.
